Adam is an experienced and sought-after advocate and impressive senior counsel with a diverse practice and experience in a range of international jurisdictions. Adam's expertise in fraud cases has been recognised again by the Legal 500 2018 edition with Adam being recommended as a Leading Junior in Band 4. This adds to his successful entry in the 2017 edition for being "very knowledgeable in the field, and makes a good impression even to the most difficult clients." Adam has also been recognised by the 2019 edition of Chambers and Partners as a Leading Junior in Band 6 in the crime category.

Adam is ranked in the Legal 500 2024 edition, Fraud: Crime, (Tier 4 – Leading Juniors).

Adam is regularly instructed in complex civil litigation, professional negligence, fraud and regulatory cases and civil actions against the police. He regularly appears in the High Court and Court of Appeal in both civil and criminal cases.

Adam is well known for his ability to manage complex cases, his creative strategy and his robust approach. He is an experienced negotiator and accredited commercial mediator. Adam has achieved very favourable settlements for clients in a variety of commercial cases.

With a strong background in criminal advocacy he appears in court at all levels in weighty cases and is known as a skilled communicator and tenacious advocate.

Adam has specialist experience in cases involving the disclosure of international evidence and has conducted cases in the US District Court in West Palm Beach, US Court of Appeals 11th Circuit and US Supreme Court as well as Australia, Nigeria, Turkey, Dubai, Lithuania, Netherlands, Norway, Belgium and Germany. He has lectured on extradition and argued a number of international cases in the Divisional Court.

Adam prosecutes and defends in some of the most serious and high profile cases involving serious fraud and financial crime.

He regularly appears as lead counsel and enjoys being hands-on, developing a clear strategic plan for large cases and building and coordinating the team in complex cases.

Adam is noted for his powerful written and oral legal submissions, creative approach and for taking the lead in multi-handed cases. He has a solid reputation for excellent client care, thorough case preparation and fearless advocacy.
